DETAILED ACTION

1. The Examiner acknowledges Applicant's submission of the RCE filed on 04/26/2004.

Claims 1-25 are now pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kochman et al (U.S.6,229,123).

Kochman discloses a self-regulating flexible heater construction for producing heat when connected to an electrical power source (Figs.1-10), comprising a flexible fabric substrate conformable to the shape of a contiguous flexible surface to be heated (see bottom-half of Fig.1D), a layer of positive temperature coefficient material (see "PTC material" in line 7 of col.12), a layer of a conductive material (see "electrodes" in line 64 of col.6), wherein at least one of the layers is applied to the heater in an interdigitated pattern (Fig.1A), an overlayer of a laminated or sewn secondary breathable woven or non-woven fabric comprised of natural or synthetic fibers which covers the heater wherein the overlayer is an encapsulating coating which may be flame retardant coating which is applied over the heater (see top-half of Fig.1D).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-20, 22-25 are allowed.
